Why choose Tencia?

Tencia is built utilising the Microsoft .NET framework using XML and a Microsoft SQL database.

Tencia has been built using web services, which allows Tencia to 'talk' to any other systems that conform to web services, this means that the software can overcome compatibility issues of different operating systems, platforms and programming languages of the past, which is vital in today's every changing business world.

An accounting solution rarely stands alone and often needs to be linked to other applications and systems including, Customer Relationship Management systems, Business Intelligence dashboards, or warehousing systems which means that it needs to be malleable enough and flexible enough to integrate easily with other software and systems.

Arrow Research Corporation

Tencia has been developed by Arrow Research Corporation. Arrow has developed software for over 20 years and has over 50,000 users world-wide.

Tencia is Australian made software designed for Australian businesses, making it responsive to the ever changing legislative and regulatory requirements of Australian Federal, State, Territory and Local Governments.

a clearer view

Tencia is an accounting and business software solution that has been designed specifically for small to medium sized businesses.

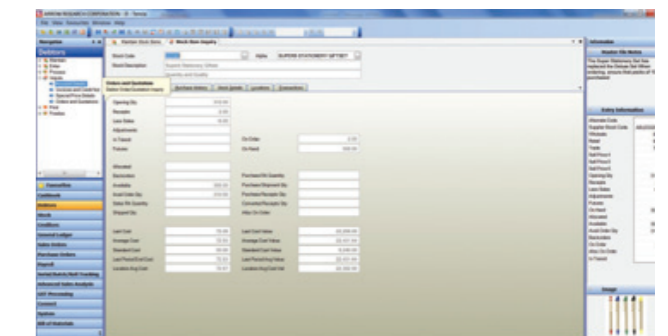

Detailed and flexible transaction inquiries

Respond to customer queries. Sort, retrieve and drill down into financial information and details quickly and easily. Use the columns chooser to add fields or the drag and drop feature to move columns, to create customised inquiries that align with your job role.

Easy-to-use look up panels and filters

Extra fields that are customisable can be set up to capture the information you need. This added flexibility means that you can record data that is specific to your business requirements.

Tencia delivers an integrated solution that is flexible, affordable and easy to use. Tencia is 'business ready' making it easy to deploy. This means you can have your software up and running faster with less down time for your business.

Tencia is a business management system that delivers holistic business benefits that will help to empower your key decision makers to make better decisions by giving them real time financial data and easy to follow, customisable reports.

Tencia is suitable for businesses across a range of industries including; financial and professional services, manufacturing, distribution and wholesale, information technology, associations and not for profit organisations.

EXPLORE TENCIA'S FEATURES:

Real time data – Access your data and financial reports securely from anywhere around the world at any time 24 hours a day 7 days a week.

Personalised User Experience – Tencia is a highly flexible solution that allows you to customise each user's experience to align with their job role.
